DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kobayakawa et al. (US 6,064,338).

As to Claims 1,3-4, with respect to Figures 1-5, Kobayakawa teaches an array antenna base station apparatus, comprising:

calculation means, AWC, for calculation of reception weights by adaptive signal processing using demodulation signals, RVs, of a communication terminal apparatus (Figure 3); and multiplication means, MP, for multiplication processing using said calculated reception weights and said demodulation signals (Figure 3), wherein said multiplication means may perform multiplication processing at a point of time when communication is opened, using said reception weights calculated at the previous communication with said communication terminal apparatus, and said demodulation signals (Col. 6, lines 51-58).

As to Claims 2,5, Kobakawaya teaches an array antenna base station apparatus according to claim 1, wherein said multiplication means comprises:

measuring means, 8, for measuring moving states of said communication terminal apparatus using said reception weights calculated by said calculation means (Figure 3); and generation means by which reception weights at a point of time when communication is opened may be generated using said reception weights calculated at the previous communication with said communication terminal and said measured moving states (Figure 3), and multiplication processing may be performed using said reception weights generated by said generation means and said demodulation signals (Figure 3 and Col. 9, line 65 through Col. 10, line 7).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed in the 10/15/04 Response have been fully considered but they are not persuasive because of the following:

The cited passage at Col. 6, lines 51-58 teaches the processing of a user signal for estimating the direction of the user. The user signal is a previous signal at a point in time at which the signal was received. This signal is used to calculate an estimate of the direction of the user at a future point in time so that communication can be maintained.

Examiner respectfully believes that the above explanation will help Applicant to see that Kobayakawa's correlation signals are based upon a previous signal to estimate where the user is in the future. Also, Examiner respectfully invites Applicant to contact Examiner to discuss possible amendments for overcoming the prior art of record.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Keskitalo et al. (US 5,893,033) teach tracking terminals and updating base station lists which will serve the terminals.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
